

Report of the Commission of Inquiry into Police Conduct

- The Commission of Inquiry into Police Conduct was established to carry out a full, independent investigation into the way in which New Zealand Police have investigated allegations of sexual assault by members of the police and associates of the police.
- The Commission is required to report to the Governor-General by 30 March 2007.

This very important publication will be available from Legislation Direct, the morning after it has been released by the Government.
